

Press Release

Brick-Mate the builders' friend from Fisco – Better by design

Fisco has introduced an updated version of its specialist brick-layers tape - first launched three years ago. - Brick-Mate; an innovative way to accurately calculate brick and block courses in minutes without the need for setting out dry bonds; has had a facelift and is now being offered with enhanced features.

The new improved Brick-Mate retains the three unique builder's scales (to calculate bricks blocks & number of courses when setting-out), and the very useful metric scale for good measure, but now comes in an ergonomically shaped bright orange ABS case for high on-site visibility, and a rubberised soft touch pad for comfort in use. Fisco has also fitted their unique snap-in quick-release belt holster, which enables the user to hold the product securely in place, whilst ensuring that it's instantly to hand when required.

Brick-Mate is a unique, innovative and practical way of calculating brick & block quantities quickly and easily so is bound to save builders valuable hours in estimating time.

Neil Hooper, FISCO'S Sales Manager says "the original Brick-Mate is a truly amazing tape but we have listened to user feedback about the problems they experience on site, taken this on board, and have designed and developed the new version Brick-Mate accordingly".

Brick-Mate is a specialist measuring tape, designed, developed and manufactured in England by Fisco Tools Ltd.
